

Lab Supply, Inoculating Loops, INO-LOOP™ Sterile Polystyrene Disposable Inoculating Loops & Needles

A necessary addition to your laboratory supply is the INO-LOOP™ sterile polystyrene inoculating loops and needles. These inoculating loops are smooth, flexible, and facilitate uniform streaking without damaging the gel surface. Needles are straight and suitable for removal of specimens of single colonies. Disposable inoculating loops and needles do not require flaming and thus eliminate the risk of infection due to aerosol formation of pathogenic substances.

Cross contamination due to improper sterilization is eliminated. They can be used under hoods without danger, and are color-coded for ease of size identification. Packed sterile in safe, tamper proof, zip-seal resealable bags. Inoculating loops and needles are available in; case packs of 1,000 packed in bags of 10 or 25, case packs of 250 individually packaged, or single case packs of 10 or 25. Certificate of conformity available upon request.
