

Glass Flasks, Clear Glass Trypsinizing Flasks w/ Pourout & Screw Caps

These clear glass tryptic flasks are made of low extractable clear borosilicate glass that conforms to USP Type I and ASTM E-438 Type I, Class A requirements, and come with black screw caps with white styrene-butadiene rubber liners that reduce contamination of the glass flask's contents. The glass tryptic flasks feature a fluted design which is intended to improve mixing characteristics. These glass flasks are autoclavable, allowing repeated use.
