

Glass Flasks, Clear Glass Trypsinizing Flasks w/ Pourout, Graduations & Caps

These clear glass tryptic flasks feature deep-fluted sides to enhance mixing characteristics. A dam below the flask's sidearm helps to retain untrypsinized tissue when decanting. The sidearm also comes with a deep-skirted 20/415 black screw cap with a white styrene-butadiene rubber liner, to help prevent contamination of the tryptic flask's contents. The sidearm allows easier decanting of contents while retaining large particles behind the dam. These glass flasks are made from low extractable clear borosilicate glass that conforms to USP Type I and ASTM E- 438 Type I, Class A requirements. Flasks also feature clearly printed white graduations, and a white writing area to aid in identification of flask contents.
